Wake Field Equestrian Riders Contract

All horses at Wake Field Equestrian Estate (WF) are the sole responsibility of their owner. WF is a provider of facilities; we do our best to maintain the property so that it is safe for all horses and riders, but take no responsibility for any damage or injury incurred by any person, horse and personal equipment on the property.

By entering WF property and using our facilities you agree to our code of conduct, which is available upon request and the rules and regulations. It is the horse owner's responsibility and/ or appointed person to read, understand and abide by them.

Rules and Regulations:

Use of these facilities is at visitors own risk

- Dogs are not permitted to be brought onto WF property.
- Buildings/barns are strictly out of bounds unless accompanied by WF employees, servants or agents.
- Issues or concerns are to be reported as soon as possible to WF.
This includes fencing / noxious weeds/ damaged facilities/ injuries or health issues of stock/ empty or dirty water troughs or any other concerns.
- Damages caused by owners, horses or owners guests to be reported immediately and the owner is responsible for damage repair costs.
- Any guest of horse owners are the responsibility of the owner. All guests need to be respectful of the property and horses.
- Animal Welfare Officers have permission to access WF property at any time.
- All fees are to be prior to leaving the property, unless by prior arrangement. Any late payments will be invoiced and incur admin costs.
- An additional fee of $20 per horse will be charged if facilities are not returned to their original state. This includes, but is not limited to, manure (excluding cross country paddock), hay/haylage, jumps, etc.

By signing this document you understand and agree to the rules and regulations, code of conduct and the content in this contract.
